

FITZPATRICK AND JOHNSON NOMINATED

FORMER'S MARGIN OVER CADY BUT 58 VOTES; LATTER'S EDGE OVER WILLIAM J. HOWARD 125; HELWAGEN DEFEATS ROBINSON

Final Precinct to Report, Winner's Own, Decides Contest When Huge Margin is Given; Fight Between Fitzpatrick and Hedges in Fall Expected to Be Great One; Treasurer's Nominee Leads Field From First Precinct to Report; Helwagen's Edge Only Eight.

Democratic voters of Circleville nominated George M. Fitzpatrick to oppose Mayor B. T. Hedges at the November election for mayor of the city, when they gave him an advantage of 58 votes over his nearest opponent, William B. Cady, in one of the most interesting primary elections held in this city in recent years. Which means that between now and the November election one of the hottest campaigns in many years will be staged in Circleville because two of the shrewdest politicians to ever aspire to one office in this city will be in the field.

It will also mark a resumption of a contest that was temporarily ended four years ago when Mayor Hedges defeated Mr. Fitzpatrick in the election at which time Hedges went into office for the first time. Two years ago Hedges defeated Willis L. Henn in claiming his second term.

JOHNSON IS WINNER

Lawrence J. Johnson won the Democratic nomination for city treasurer with William J. Howard running second. Johnson's margin over Howard was 125 votes, when he tabulated 451 against Howard's 326. Charles E. Fellers and George E. Hammel finished third and fourth in seeking this office when they gathered 261 and 231 votes, respectively. Johnson took an early lead in the returns which was gradually increased as the precincts continued to report. The winner led in all precincts except Second ward, east precinct, Howard's stamping-ground, which he lost by a 51-36 tally.

In the only other contest on the ticket, that for nomination for second ward councilman, Julius H. Helwagen, who is now serving his first term in council, turned back the threat of Ward W. Robinson by a margin of only eight votes. Helwagen gathered 153 votes in two precincts in the second ward while Robinson received 145 counts.

The strength of Mr. Cady, unexpected by many but predicted by just as many more, made a real contest of what would otherwise have been a runaway. The balloting was close from start to finish in the Fitzpatrick-Cady race with Harry W. Moore who finished third, and Willis L. Henn who brought up the rear, closely contesting the winner. Fitzpatrick had 453 votes, Cady 397, Moore 285 and Henn 221.

With only one precinct to hear from, that the first ward east precinct, Mr. Fitzpatrick's own precinct, Fitzpatrick was leading by one vote. When it was learned that this was the only return to come in victory was conceded barring the unexpected. And sure enough, the unexpected didn't happen. Fitzpatrick was given a vote of 99 in this precinct while Cady could gather only 42 and the nomination was over.

WINNER TAKES FIVE

Of the nine precincts Fitzpatrick won five, two going to Mr. Cady, one to Mr. Moore and one tied with Mr. Cady. Fitzpatrick's largest margin came in his home precinct, first ward west, the last one to be reported.

Several records were broken in this primary, when a total of 1,515 votes were cast on the two

DISPOSAL PLANT REMOVAL BEATEN

With even the southend of Columbus showing a weak vote, the ordinance to purchase land three miles south of that city on which to erect a city sewage disposal plant was voted down by Columbus voters by a 3,175 vote margin. Failure of the south side to vote heavily for the proposal had a large effect on the outcome of the plan.

CULVERTS PLANNED

The board of county commissioners is asking bids for the construction of two concrete box culverts on the Palestine-Williamsport road in Monroe-twp. The culverts will replace structures number 12 and 13 on this road. Bids will be received until 12 o'clock noon Monday, Sept. 14.

TO OPPOSE HEDGES

George M. Fitzpatrick, former mayor of Circleville, will pit his political powers against B. T. Hedges, incumbent, in November following action of voters in selecting him over William B. Cady, Harry W. Moore and Willis L. Henn at the Tuesday primary.

STOUTSVILLE MAN IS TAKEN

Kin of Village's Founder Dies At Home After Working All Day

Nelson F. Stout, aged 74, a grocer of Stoutsville and a great-grandchild of Benjamin Stout, the founder of that village, succumbed at his home Tuesday at 4:30 p. m. Heart trouble caused his death.

Mr. Stout had been at his store all day, working as usual, but when he went home in the afternoon he complained to his wife that he was not feeling well. He passed away while lying on a couch.

He was a native of Stoutsville being born in that village, April 30, 1857, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Stout, both natives of the Stoutsville vicinity. On Oct. 20, 1879 he was married to Rose O'Daffer, a native of Tarrion who survives him.

Besides the widow, two daughters, Mrs. Frank L. Crites of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Mrs. Mable Valentine at the home, and two sisters, Mrs. Matt Miller and Mrs. Thomas Dick, both of the Stoutsville vicinity, survive. He also leaves four grandchildren.

OVER 4,600 CO. STUDENTS

Enumeration Discloses 4,598 At End of Last Term of Schools

When schools throughout the county open in September, over 4,600 students will enter, according to an enumeration of May, 1931, compiled in the office of County Superintendent of Schools M. S. Cox. This report does not include the number of students to enter Circleville schools.

There were 4,598 students at the end of May, this year, an increase of 11 over the same time in 1930, when 4,587 were enumerated. In May, 1929, there were 4,497 listed, showing an increase this year over the 1929 report.

Of this number 2,383 are boys, and 2,215 are girls, the report shows.

Many of the boards of education of various townships are preparing for the opening of the school term. All of the county schools will not open at the same time. Some will open on Sept. 7 and others on the 14th, while others are speaking of opening the last of August. The Wayne-twp schools will probably not open until late in October as work on the construction of their new building is now underway.

Wayne A. Hoover of Jackson-twp has been ill at his home for the past week.

OHIO'S CITIES MAKE SURVEY OF ELECTIONS

Irregularities at Steubenville Are Only Ones Which Cause Concern

RESULTS ARE LISTED

'General' Coxe Named For Mayor's Post

By International News Service
Municipalities of Ohio today "took stock" of their activities at the primary election polls yesterday, while party political leaders, given their cue, began laying the campaign groundwork to carry their candidates to victory at next November's elections.

Reports of irregularities in the Steubenville region drew the spotlight of yesterday's balloting. For a time the situation appeared to be critical as charges were hurled that registered voters' cards had disappeared. The election ended, however, without serious outbreaks, although two men, including a special deputy, were arrested.

In the first congressional district, State Senator David Lorbach, Democrat, and John B. Holister, Republican, were unopposed. They will face each other in November to fill the unexpired term of the late Nicholas Longworth.

Municipal Judge Martin L. Sweeney defeated Leon Kujawski and Walter O'Donnell for the Democratic nomination in the Twentieth district to succeed the late Congressman Charles A. Mooney. Judge Sweeney will oppose D. Hayden Perry, the Republican choice, at the November election. Perry won his party's approval over Oscar Hensley. Sweeney is regarded by political leaders as the probable winner in November.

Balloting yesterday was reported as dull and listless in some sections of the state. These instances were offset, however, by keen mayoralty and councilmanic fights in other cities. Steubenville had probably the most intense mayoralty battle. Fifty special deputy sheriffs were on duty there during the election.

REPORT OF CITIES

Steubenville — Dismissal of the entire board of elections was reported to be under consideration as the climax of a bitter Republican fight in which J. C. McMasters succeeded in winning the mayoralty nomination away from Mayor Oliver Conley.

Conley, charging unfair tactics were used by McMasters, indicted he would ask for a new election. George Neffner, chief of the state elections department, and three sides were rushed to Steubenville by Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown when reports of election irregularities started pouring in to Brown's office at the state house.

Lynching Threats Heard As Police Question Pair In Brutal Murder Of Four

Hermit - Bootleggers Arrested Cleaning Blood-Soaked Garments

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN

Angry Mob of 2,000 Gather Outside Jail

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Aug. 12.—Stringent measures against possible lynching attempts were taken by authorities today as they grappled with Lawrence and Paul Keene, brothers, in connection with the murder of two Ypsilanti high school boys and their girl companions on a lonely "lovers' lane" yesterday.

The Keenes were arrested on suspicion late yesterday as they were discovered washing their bloodstained clothing and scraping blood off two heavy clubs, according to state police and sheriff's officers.

For a year and a half the brothers have led a hermit-like existence in a shanty on wheels near the spot where the two boys and two girls were found cremated in the automobile early yesterday.

Frank Walker, corporal in the state police, and Deputy Sheriff Lynn Squires, who made the arrests, said they crawled up behind the Keenes near their shanty and watched them washing their clothes and removing caked blood from the clubs. The officers said they found two rifles in the shanty.

Victims of the murder, discovered by farmers, were identified as Thomas Wheatley, 17, of near Denham, Mich., Harry Lore, 16, of Ypsilanti, Vivian Gold, 15, of Cleveland, a cousin of Lore, and Anna May Harrison, 16, also of Cleveland.

The couples had attended a theater and had driven to the lonely road afterwards. The ground about the car indicated there had been a struggle between the boys and the "petter bandits."

While authorities last night were questioning the Keene brothers inside the Washpanaw jail here, an angry mob of more than 2,000 gathered on the outside. Men congregated in small groups and whispered of lynching. All entrances to the jail were under guard.

Two brothers are being held as the slayers of Vivian Gold, 16, of Cleveland, left, above and Anna Harrison, 17, Cleveland, right, above. The two girls, with their escorts, Harry Lore, 16, of Ypsilanti, Mich., Miss Gold's cousin, and Thomas Wheatley, 16, of Belleville, Mich., were murdered, dumped into the back of an automobile then burned beyond recognition. Farmers who were hastened to the scene, after hearing a struggle, saw an automobile leaving the scene.

Legs Diamond Sent To Prison

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Jack "Legs" Diamond, notorious Manhattan gangster and former body guard for Arnold Rothstein, today was sentenced to four years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta and fined $11,000.

Diamond was convicted last week of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law, and owning and operating a still.

Federal Judge Richard J. Hopkins of Topeka, Kas., who presided at the trial gave Diamond the maximum penalty under both counts.

Diamond, appeared stunned by the sentence. He paled visibly as Judge Hopkins in a crisp, decided voice imposed sentence.

Diamond, who has had a notorious career as a gangster and racketeer in New York, was convicted of operating a still in the Catskill mountain summer resort region. The conspiracy charge also was based on his Catskill mountain activities.

A half dozen resort owners in the Catskills testified against Diamond and said they had purchased beer from him or his agents.

Paul Quattrocchi, Diamond's lieutenant who was convicted on the conspiracy count with "Legs" but found innocent on the possession of a still count, was sentenced to two years and fined $5,000.

Quattrocchi, who turned against Diamond during the trial, was sentenced by Judge Hopkins as soon as the judge had disposed of Diamond. Quattrocchi's sentence also was the maximum.

Although Diamond has been arrested twenty-four times today was the first time he has had to "take a stiff rap." Always before in his violent life he has wriggled away from the law.

Diamond in the past year has been termed the "clay pigeon" of gangsters because of the number of times he has been shot by rival gangsters.

Star Boxing Card to be Staged This Evening

Crowd Will See Evert's Lineup

SPORTS CROWD WILL SEE THE CARD
Main Go
Tut Jackson vs. Wild Bill Eck
Semi Final
Lettie McDonald vs. Roy McQuade
Prelims
Tuffy McGarran vs. Tommy Richardson
Kid Dayton vs. Jack Rice
Delph Hamilton vs. Pug Leonard

Above is the all-star boxing card which has been arranged by the management of Evert's Arena, E. Corwin-st., to be staged this evening beginning at 8:30 o'clock.

Every arrangement and detail has been completed and the whole situation is in the hands of the weatherman. In case of rain tonight the card will be put on tomorrow night.

The participants in the main go, Tut Jackson, of Washington C. H., and "Wild Bill" Eck of Lancaster, were officially weighed in at 3 p. m. today in the presence of Dr. B. R. Bales. Although Jackson is several pounds heavier, Eck will overcome this advantage in that he is several years younger.

Two of the best officials of boxing contests in this section have been secured by the management of the arena to handle the matches. Jack Boyd, of Lancaster, who handles many contests in Columbus, including those at Haft's Acre and other places, will have charge of the main go and semi-final and Tom McGarran, an employee at the Triangle Farms of here, who has not been seen officiating any contests here but has won his merits at other bouts, will take care of the prelims. Both are fine officials.

Every one of the participants in the five matches carded for this evening are in excellent condition, according to Frank Davis, who has examined them from time to time.

Enough has been said concerning the main go between Tut Jackson and "Wild Bill" Eck, but the semi-final and prelims to be staged will also bring together some cleverer punchers. The semi-final, between McDonald, of Lancaster and McQuade, of here, is expected to bring a knock-out, as also is the next prelim between McGarran of here and Richardson of Lancaster.

A good match is expected which Kid Dayton (Al Van-Fossen) of

Grove Destined To Set Record

BY COPELAND C. BURG.
NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Robert Moses Grove, the man from the Blue Ridge mountains who throws left and thinks right, today approached closely baseball's seats of the mighty. He pitched the Philadelphia Athletics to an 8 to 1 victory over Detroit, making his 23rd triumph of the season.

The great southpaw, whose purchase for $105,000 by Connie Mack made many persons doubt the A's manager had an ounce of Scotch blood, seems destined to snatch a modern pitching record. He is the first hurler in 11 years who looks a cinch to win more than 30 encounters.

Some of the finest records of pitching already have been curdled by Grove. Rube Marquard won 24 games and lost seven for the Giants in 1911; Fred Schupp captured 21 and lost seven for McGraw in 1917 and "Dutch" Reuther took 19 and dropped six for the Cincy Reds in 1919.

Grove Alexander, the great anti-prohibitionist, won 33 in 1916 for the Phillies, Rube Waddell garnered 27 wins way back in 1905 for the A's and Joe Wood won 34 games in 1912 for the Boston Red Sox. No left-hander has ever won 30 games in a season.

Grove allowed Detroit eight hits and walked four, but he struck out six and was helped by a couple of double plays. Bishop got three hits and McNair cracked out a homer off Vic Sorrell, who molded in the seventh inning.

Fred Matberry, the Washington moose, red-lighted the Chicago White Sox with three singles and won 3 to 0. It was Matberry's 13th success for 1931.

Oliver, Boston American infielder, connected for a single in the eighth, scoring Rhyme to give the Ruddy Hose a 4 to 3 beating of the St. Louis Browns. MacFayden limited St. Louis to nine hits.

New York and Cleveland in the American League were halted by the rain and will play two games today.

All games in the National League were postponed on Tuesday and four double-headers, topped by the St. Louis-Brooklyn feud in Ebbets field, were slated for today.

Vierebome Scatters Hits, While Ray Smith is Victim of Misplays.

Grabbing a 2 run lead in the first inning and adding three each in the seventh and eighth on errors by the Red Men, the Independent Grocers shut out the Indians by the score of 8-0 in a game played at Utilities park Tuesday evening.

Effective pitching by Ray Smith proved fruitless with the poor support offered by the Indians in the infield and outfield.

Eddie Watson was the first Grocer to reach the paths on a line drive muffed in the infield. Mettler next came to bat and a Red Man outfielder muffed the ball allowing Watson to score and Mettler go to third. Mettler came home on a passed ball.

In the seventh inning the Grocers obtained several hits, getting a man on second. He was put out when forced to third, but the next man to plate smashed the ball on a line drive and through an error in the outfield reached second scoring two men ahead of him. He finally scored on another error. Almost the same picture was painted in the eighth for the Grocers, when they tallied three more markers on a single hit and two errors.

Vierebome pitched his regular heady game allowing seven hits, while Ray Smith gave eight.

Another interesting contest is scheduled for tonight when the Oils and Grocers are scheduled to appear. The Grocer lost their last contest to the Oils late in the game, so tonight's fracas promises to be exciting.

Jimmy Walker Enjoying Life On European Tour

BREMEN, Germany, Aug. 12.—Happy as a schoolboy on a holiday, Mayor James J. Walker of New York was today seeing the sights of the old hanseatic city of Bremen, as the guest of the senate of the city. He was expected to leave Bremen for Berlin.

The mayor has divided his time between the grave and the gay features of the city. Last night he visited the Rathskellers and beer gardens and in the afternoon he saw the cathedral and the ancient city hall, built before Columbus sailed for America.

Arriving yesterday morning aboard the liner Bremen, the mayor was welcomed by Dr. Pitta, president of the senate of Bremen and acting lord mayor in the absence of Dr. Donandt. Practically the whole senate, in formal morning dress, was present because the gigantic north lock for accommodations of ocean liners was being opened.

For the moment Mayor Walker was obviously somewhat surprised at the dignity of the reception, but responded with a pleasing speech. Later the mayor, accompanied by his secretary, George Collins, his physician, Dr. William Schroeder, and the American consul general at Bremen, was the senate's guest of honor at a luncheon.

After a rest at his hotel, during which he complained of a headache, the mayor attended a dinner given by Dr. Heineken, president of a steamship line at which several other prominent German shipping men were present. He was thanked by Herr Heineken for the courtesy extended by the city of New York to the representatives of his line in that city.

"I am glad to be here," the mayor said, "I trust that it will not be long before the German people are restored to the happiness they enjoyed in the past."

Among those who welcomed the mayor to Germany was Max Schmeling, heavyweight boxing champion, here to meet his manager, Joe Jacobs.

Mayor Walker refused to discuss reports that he would not run for mayor again, but said that English newspapermen had misinterpreted his remarks made when the liner Bremen touched Southampton.

Asked when he was going to run again, the mayor said: "I am running for my health now and not for office. I am not discussing politics on this trip."

NATION'S RETAIL SALES DOWN ONLY SLIGHTLY IN DEPRESSION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Based on all available official data it was estimated today that retail sales in the United States during 1931 probably would run from $35,000,000,000 to $40,000,000,000 despite the business depression.

The census of distribution for 1929 showed that total retail sales through all channels amounted to $53,000,000,000. This no doubt was reduced to $40,000,000,000 or $45,000,000,000 last year, with another drop indicated in 1931 as the depression continues.

Federal reserve board figures today showed that department store sales in more than 230 principal cities were eight per cent below 1930 during the first seven months of the year. Government economists declared that while department store sales cannot be taken as a reflection of all distribution through retail channels, there has been a material reduction from most sources.

The 1929 retail distribution census was the first of the kind attempted, but it was thought probable the figure for that year established an all-time record not only for the United States but for any country of the world.

Most official reports indicated declines in distribution this year. Commerce department figures for the first half of the year showed a monthly average index adjusted for seasonal variations for department store sales of 111 for 1929, based on 1923-1925 average as 100, compared with 106 for 1930 and 99 for 1931. Corrected for average daily sales the index in 1929 was 101, 1930, 97 and 1931, 90.

The five and ten cent store seasonally adjusted index for 1929 was 162 compared with 162 in 1930 and 163 in 1931, one of the few gains showed. Mail order sales for May were given as $50,070,000, compared with $41,459,000 in January and a monthly average for the first half of 1925 of $52,589,000 and for 1930, $41,952,000.

The monthly average seasonally adjusted freight car loading index for the first half of 1929 was 104, compared with 99 in 1930 and 89 in 1931. This reflects movements of merchandise by rail, although a portion of the reduction may be attributed to the use of motor trucks in short-haul freight.

KOENECKE IS SOLD TO MCGRAW TEAM

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The first step in the rebuilding of the Giants for the 1932 campaign was revealed today in the purchase of Leonard Koenecke, young outfielder, from the Indianapolis club of the American Association.

Koenecke cost the Giants $75,000 in players, according to Secretary James J. Tierney. He will continue to wear an Indianapolis uniform for the rest of the current season and will report for work at the Giant training camp next February.

Koenecke is a slugging type of outfielder with a batting average of .375 for this year's work in Indianapolis.

Wake Up Your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sick and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes these good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up."

They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, working when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

Get a box of these good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Look for the golden Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Demand a substitute.

Delay On Farm Debts Is Asked

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Congress will be confronted with extraordinary demands for jobless aid next winter, including a revival of war-time price fixing measures to steady commodity prices, direct appropriations for relief and other far-reaching measures, it became apparent today.

With prices of farm products continually sagging under estimates of bumper crops and debtors pressing for payment, price-fixing today had been endorsed by Senator Gerald Nye (R) of North Dakota and Rep. Wright Patman (D) of Texas, from widely separated parts of the country and each acting without the knowledge of the other.

Returning from his home state where he saw the effects of a drought which affected part of North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and other northwestern states, Nye said that demands for federal aid would be pressed.

"I do not see how we can meet the situation that will confront us in the winter unless direct federal aid is given," said Nye. "I believe the situation cannot be fully cleared unless we have two or three years of price-fixing in the basic agricultural commodities.

Present conditions were prophesied six or eight years ago, when it was maintained that unless the buying power of the farm was restored the whole country would suffer.

"The price of wheat, cotton, potatoes, dairy products, meat and some other commodities should be fixed at a reasonable figure.

"In addition there must be a debt holiday in the agricultural regions. The federal government can aid by providing a moratorium on loans of the federal farm loan banks, which now are foreclosing on farms regularly."

Nye said he planned to present the situation to President Hoover, the federal farm board and the Red Cross.

North Dakota, he said, may not have a spring wheat crop of over 20,000,000 bushels as compared with a normal crop of 100,000,000 bushels. The Red Cross is aiding, he said, although the people in the northwest part of the state—the hardest hit—are proud and do not wish aid if they can live without it.

The movement for a moratorium by the federal farm loan banks throughout the west has been urged in many states. Rep. Edgar Howard (D) of Nebraska has started the movement and meetings are being held in the trans-Mississippi section.

Indications that the administration may take a stand against direct aid were seen in President Hoover's recent statement urging that relief be provided through local agencies.

USE POISON FOR GRASSHOPPERS

Prompt action helps in reducing the menace of losses from grasshopper injury, declares T. H. Parks, extension specialist in entomology at the Ohio State University.

Newly seeded clover and timothy are often destroyed by the migrating insects before it is realized that the grasshoppers are present in the fields. Likewise, they enter the borders of cultivated fields and soon spread over a considerable area before the need of fighting them is realized. If prompt control measures are used, these crops can be saved at a nominal cost.

The most effective and practical method of controlling the ravages of the pest, he says, is found in poisoned bran mash. This is made with wheat bran 25 pounds, Paris green or white arsenate, 1 pound, cheap molasses 2 quarts, oranges or lemons 4 fruits, and from 3 to 3½ gallons of water.

In preparing the bait, mix the bran and poison dry, using either a tub, box, or wagon bed for the purpose. Squeeze the fruit juice into the water and drop or grind the peel and the pulp through a meat grinder, add them to the water. Dissolve the syrup into the flavored water and stir until uniformly mixed. Then slowly pour the sweetened, flavored water over the poisoned bran, stirring all the time to thoroughly moisten all particles of the bran. The mash is then ready to apply. It is best to use care in mixing the bait so that poultry or livestock do not feed upon it.

The bran mash should be sowed or scattered broadcast very thinly and sparingly in the infested areas in the early morning or about the time the grasshoppers begin to move and feed. The above amount should be so thinly scattered that it covers about four acres of land. This helps insure that livestock and birds will not feed upon it.

THRILLING EXPERIENCES TOLD BY CLEVELAND TEST AVIATOR

CLEVELAND, Aug. 12.—Undaunted by a series of thrilling air experiences, during which time he was forced to outmaneuver death when his plane "went wild" three miles above the earth, Pilot Ralph C. Wensinger was back in the air again today looking for storm clouds and testing the humidity for the weather bureau.

Soaring high into the skies daily, Pilot Wensinger is becoming accustomed to thrills of one sort or another—so accustomed, in fact, that it takes an unusual sensation to afford him more than an ordinary day.

Equipped with an aerograph, Wensinger points the nose of his plane skyward at 5 o'clock every morning. The instrument records humidity, barometric pressure and temperature, information that makes the work of the weatherman in Cleveland a bit easier. He is under contract to fly at least 14,000 feet high, halting for a minute at every 1,500 foot level to give his instrument ample time to make its recordings.

Braving storms frequently, it was a super-thrill then for Pilot Wensinger when his plane gathered a thick coat of ice at 17,000 feet, freezing his instruments and he found himself in a violent spin that was uncontrollable.

With his bank and turn indicator useless because of the ice, Wensinger was unable to tell which way he was spinning until his plane had dropped 7,000 feet in something like a minute. His goggles froze and his rate of climb indicator crawled back to zero and stopped.

Luckily for Pilot Wensinger that there is such a thing as centrifugal force, for it was this unseen power that broke the ice on his wings and he pulled the plane back into a glide as his bank and turn indicator began scoring again. Feeling for the bottom of the cloud layer after he had gained control of his ship, Wensinger suddenly emerged to find himself flying between two trees on a hill-top. Consulting his map he found that he had come down at Doylestown, near Barborton, 35 miles from Cleveland airport where he started the flight.

"You don't have time to be afraid when your ship acts like that," Wensinger commented. "But afterwards, you shake plenty. You feel like a fool when those instruments go bad, and there's nothing you can do about it."

Wensinger, who is 28, has been flying since 1921 and is president of a Cleveland company which has contracted for the daily weather bureau flights. He is not married and resides with his parents and two brothers and a sister.

LANDS 53 1-2 LB. BASS

SANTA ROSA, Calif.—Using a light pole and ordinary line, Colin McKinley of Santa Rosa, landed a Striped bass weighing 53 1-2 pounds. The big fish was taken from Forest Pool, near Jenner, in Russian River. Riley Monroe, also of Santa Rosa, took a 30-pound

Striper near Jenner and other large fish are reported to have been caught there.

JOBLESS AND HANDICAPPED DENVER.—For years the expenses of lawn in Denver parks have been marred by vandals. Manager Walter B. Lowry, of the department of improvements and parks, saw in the situation an opportunity to relieve unemployment. Lowry announced through local newspapers that every man, woman and child who wanted work would be given a job digging dandelions in City Park at 5 cents per pound. But instead of hundreds reporting for jobs there were thousands and workers continued to pour into Denver from surrounding communities and the city found itself swamped. Finally, it was deemed necessary to give preference to married men who have families to support.

itself a convenient city in which to do business.
Successful cities must be managed and directed just as any successful business must be managed.
A city is simply a big business; the management of its affairs calls for the same efficiency that makes a private business successful.
A successful institution always has a regular inventory taken of all its assets. This is an absolute necessity if a business wishes to maintain profitable operations.
A business that shows at the end of each year for a period of years and is unable to reduce that deficit and goes on year after year with a heavier burden of debts would be regarded by any intelligent person as in a bad way, indeed.
A continued increase in debt would make it very evident that conditions require some drastic action, more efficient management, a trimming of overhead expense, a complete reorganization, or go out of business.
"TOO MANY PEOPLE WON'T TAKE THE TIME TO STOP AND THINK THAT THE STOCKHOLDERS OF A CITY ARE ITS TAXPAYERS, AND THEY MUST PAY SOME ATTENTION TO THEIR BUSINESS IF THEY EXPECT TO BE SUCCESSFUL."
NEW HAVEN OYSTER SLUMP
NEW HAVEN, Conn. — The great slump in the oyster industry in this area is indicated by the fact that the state has paid the city of New Haven $595 as the tax on oyster beds within the harbor. The tax a year before was $1,122, and years back it rose to many thousands. New Haven once was the world's oyster center.

HOW FARMER KILLS TIME
SORRS, Conn. — The average Connecticut farmer spends sixty-eight percent of his time in July getting his hay in and fifty percent of his time in September filling silos. Such is the result of a five-year study just announced by Prof. Paul L. Putnam, of the state agricultural college here. He kept records of 284 farms in making his survey, and as a result declared he found that "the Connecticut farmer is swamped with work in July and has a problem finding enough hands to help him."

Bumpers and spare tire extra at low cost.)

WHEN you buy a Ford car today, you buy what is unquestionably the greatest value in the history of the Ford Motor Company. Never before has so much beauty, comfort, safety and performance been offered at such a low price.

The low price of the Ford is something to think about because it means an immediate saving of many dollars — always an important consideration. But far more significant than price alone is what you get for that price. When high quality is combined with low price, you may justly take pride in having found a most satisfactory purchase.

See the Ford — ride in it — learn something about the value that is built into every part. The more you know about it, the more certain you will be that it is the car for you. It is literally true that when you "get the facts you will get a Ford."
